

The Adelphi Show

25 July 2024: For Immediate Release

The Inaugural Adelphi Show is Singapore's first building-wide audio-based open-house-style show featuring merchants located throughout the building in the centre of sunny Singapore. The August 2024 Adelphi Show will take place on 30-31 August from 12pm-8pm.

The Adelphi started with a few audio companies in the early 90's, and has grown to become an international audio haven, housing the majority of the world's top audio brands under one roof. From budget friendly head-fi all the way to the most exotic and elaborate systems imaginable. The Adelphi is now a focal point where local music enthusiasts as well as music lovers from around the world come to visit. A place to listen and experience the latest audio equipment, a place for friends to meet for coffee and chit-chat, a place many of us call... a second home.

Representing over 200 international audio brands, from desktop systems, multiroom systems, home cinemas, personal audio, music software, accessories, all the way to State-of-the-art cost no object systems. Come and meet with the people behind some of the top brands that will be here to launch and talk about their new products, lucky draws with many exciting prizes, special promotions/offers...etc.

There's nothing quite like celebrating community and experiencing music together with friends and family in a fun and friendly event. We hope to see you and strongly encourage you to bring your friends and/or family along with you so that we can all share the hobby that we all so dearly love together. May you be blessed with good music always!
